CHEER FOR CHEMISTRY!

Football would not be possible without the molecules produced by our industry. Petrochemicals and petroleum are a big part of the game, from the stadium construction to the players' protective gear. When cheering on your favorite team this football season, remember that petrochemicals and petroleum are the real MVPs!

FOOTBALL HELMET
So many molecules go into protecting a player's head! Polycarbonate plastic and PVC are used on the helmet's outer shell, produced by Formosa Plastics, Shintech Louisiana, and OxyChem, and polyurethane foams, made by BASF and Huntsman/Rubicon, are used on the inside.

JERSEY
How do we know which player is which? Our favorite team jerseys are made possible thanks to synthetic fibers, made by BASF, that allow moisture absorption and elasticity.

PROTECTIVE PADDING
Great tackles wouldn't be possible without our players' protective padding, and polyethylene, from ExxonMobil, is a crucial ingredient.

GLOVES
Methanol, produced by Koch Methanol St. James, is a key ingredient found in players' gloves.

BLEACHERS
How could we watch the game without a place to sit? Bleachers are made of aluminum which is derived from alumina, and Atlantic Alumina in Gramercy is the only US alumina producer.

FOOTBALL
There would be no football games without the actual FOOTBALL! Companies like Lion Copolymer produce the synthetic rubber used to make footballs.

JET FUEL & GAS
Thanks to companies like Phillips 66, CITGO, and Shell, players can go from city to city to play- and we can enjoy an exciting away game!

ARTIFICIAL TURF
Polyethylene and polypropylene make up the synthetic turf for many fields. ExxonMobil produces these important molecules.

FIELD PAINT
There couldn't be a game without the field lines! The paint for these lines are made with acrylic polymer emulsions, produced by Westlake Chemical.

GRASS FIELD
A beautiful grass field can't be maintained without fertilizers and water purification (sulfuric acid). Companies Cornerstone, Phillips 66, and Nutrien keep the fields green!
